

GLOBAL TECHNOLOGY SUMMIT

Brian Fogarty

Senior Director, Global Intellectual Property Litigation
Nike, Inc.

Brian Fogarty is Senior Director, Global Intellectual Property Litigation for Nike, Inc. In this role, Brian oversees Nike and its affiliates on significant global intellectual property disputes, including patent, trademark, trade dress, trade secret and copyright matters. Brian joined Nike, Inc. in 2011 and has served as Assistant General Counsel, Intellectual Property and more recently Director, Global Intellectual Property Litigation. He has provided counsel to all levels of business management on IP disputes, including integrating intellectual property considerations into business plans, enterprise intellectual property risk avoidance and mitigation strategies and strategies for enhancing the scope and strength of Nike's intellectual property portfolio.

Brian received his J.D. degree from the University of San Diego School of Law in 2001 and a B.A. degree from Boston College in 1997.

www.dlapipertechsummit.com

© 2018 DLA Piper. DLA Piper is a global law firm operating through various separate and distinct legal entities. Further details of these entities can be found at www.dlapiper.com. All rights reserved. Attorney advertising.