

GLOBAL TECHNOLOGY SUMMIT

Janey Hoe

Vice President

Cisco Investments and Corporate Development

Janey Hoe is a Vice President of Cisco Investments. Previously, she held multiple product management, technical marketing, and business development leadership roles at Cisco, operating multibillion-dollar product lines as well as pioneering new products in switching, security, data center and video collaboration. Along with her team, she was recognized as a finalist for the Pioneer Award, the highest honor for innovation at Cisco.

Prior to Cisco, Janey was a management consultant at McKinsey & Company. Before McKinsey, she worked on network protocol research with MIT LCS Laboratory, AT&T Laboratories and HP Laboratories. Her work on TCP/IP performance improvements has been widely implemented and referenced.

Janey holds a B.S. and M.S. in electrical engineering and computer sciences from U.C. Berkeley and MIT respectively.

www.dlapipertechsummit.com

© 2018 DLA Piper. DLA Piper is a global law firm operating through various separate and distinct legal entities. Further details of these entities can be found at www.dlapiper.com. All rights reserved. Attorney advertising.