

GLOBAL TECHNOLOGY SUMMIT

Sibel Owji

Partner and Co-Chair, International Tax Practice
DLA Piper LLP (US)

Sibel Owji focuses her practice on corporate international tax, operational, legal and business planning and structuring, global transfer pricing documentation and strategy, foreign tax audit assistance, US taxation of foreign operations and related topics, including worldwide tax minimization, IP migration planning, cost sharing and buy-in arrangements, toll manufacturing arrangements, planning regarding US anti-deferral regimes including Subpart F, tax free reorganizations of US based multinationals, tax treaty issues, repatriation planning.

Sibel has managed various large and complex global legal, operational and tax structuring projects and participated in the design and detailed implementation phases of such projects as well as review and audit of such global structures from both legal and tax perspectives for clients in diverse industries and jurisdictions.

Sibel has a diverse and broad legal and professional experience practicing law for 25 years with a focus on international tax, business and legal advisory for the last 15 years.

In addition to her role at DLA Piper, Sibel acted as the Interim International Tax Director for one of her clients that is a large, US based multinational publicly traded technology company for nearly a year and managed their global tax operations including the US, Latin America, EMEA and APAC regions.

Sibel is member of DLA Piper's National Diversity and Inclusion Committee as the co-chair for the San Francisco office.

www.dlapipertechsummit.com