Rolf Rando

Director of Mobile Development
August Home

Rolf Rando is the Director of Mobile Development at August Home, maker of the August Smart Lock and August Doorbell Cam. August's mission is to make customers' lives more simple and secure by offering unprecedented visibility and control over their front door.

Rolf has a technical and product management background in computer graphics, embedded engineering and online social networking services. At August he manages the mobile app development as well as acting as the technical lead on the August Smart Lock HomeKit Enabled that integrates with Apple's HomeKit platform.

Immediately prior to joining August, he was the founder and CEO of ImageChef Incorporated, which operated a unique set of photo editing tools, combined with a social network that reached several million users. ImageChef was acquired by CyberLink in 2014.

Rolf holds a bachelor's degree in computer science from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is an avid skier.
