Katherine Haar

Senior Vice President, General Counsel and Chief Privacy Officer
Informatica

Katherine (Kiki) Haar is Senior Vice President, General Counsel and Chief Privacy Officer at Informatica, the enterprise cloud data management leader. Prior to becoming General Counsel, she was Informatica's Deputy General Counsel, Corporate and Compliance, and was the primary attorney responsible for mergers and acquisitions, including Informatica's $5.3 billion leveraged buyout by Permira Funds and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Board. As deputy general counsel, Kiki was also responsible for a broad range of legal matters such as corporate governance, regulatory compliance and SEC reporting, equity and employment arrangements, privacy and data security, social media and intellectual property issues and international legal affairs. Before joining Informatica, Kiki was a corporate and securities associate at a large international law firm, where she focused on public and private offerings, public company representation, and mergers and acquisitions. Throughout her career, Kiki has represented companies in a wide range of industries, among them enterprise software, telecommunications, entertainment and clean technology, and investment banking.
