Vanina Guerrero is a corporate, securities and M&A lawyer, practicing in the firm's Silicon Valley and New York offices.

Vanina has handled a wide variety of IPOs, SEC-registered and Rule 144A/Regulation S securities offerings, high-yield debt offerings, corporate debt restructurings, M&A transactions and corporate governance issues. She has worked on complex client matters based out of New York, Paris, Hong Kong, Beijing and Mumbai and led the Greater China/Latin America practice group of her previous firm based out of Beijing. Her clients represent numerous industries including internet and internet infrastructure, TMT, life sciences, biotech and clean tech/renewable energy.

Before joining DLA Piper, Vanina was General Counsel for both Reliance Communications (Enterprise), the flagship telecom arm of Indian conglomerate the Reliance Group, and Global Cloud Xchange (GCX) its global Internet and technology subsidiary, which owns and operates the world's largest private submarine cable system, where she was responsible for the company's global corporate and legal affairs and a member of the senior executive management team.

During her time at Reliance/GCX, Vanina led key corporate initiatives, including the company's corporate debt restructuring with high-yield bondholders and liability management exercises, strategic M&A and international arbitrations, and GCX's partnership with OTT players such as Alibaba Cloud to enable cloud services to India's largest startup community.

She is not admitted to practice law in California.
