

European Technology Summit

Harveen Gill

Founder and Joint Managing Director
HGA Group

Harveen Gill is founder and Joint Managing Director of HGA Group - the UK's leading international boutique recruitment and consultancy operator within fashion and retail.

With offices in London, Italy, Turkey, South Africa and Dubai, 50% of HGA Group's assignments sit in international territories. Clients of HGA Group include mid - sized organisations and blue - chip multiples. The unifying factor being that all are undergoing transformation. Retailers that secure the talent that deploy the correct technologies will be able to enhance their competitive advantage by personalising products and shopping experiences and refining logistical processes.

Harveen has ensured that her personal ethics, standards and vision underpin every touch point, as she and her team deliver top tier individuals and teams into organisations. Longevity is vital - many of her live client relationships span over a decade. She champions assignments within international and emerging markets whilst acting as brand ambassador for the business.

Although recruitment is the staple for HGA Group, Harveen is also Board Advisor to a technology established start - up - gowherewolf.com.

Her retail career includes working for John Lewis, New Look and Topshop.

www.dlapipertechsummit.eu