Vincent Roobaert

Principal Legal Counsel

NATO Communications and Information Agency (NCIA)

Vincent Roobaert is Principal Legal Counsel at the NATO Communications and Information Agency (NCIA), where he provides strategic legal guidance on institutional law, procurement, compliance, ethics, and emerging technologies with a focus on cyber defence and digital transformation. With over 20 years of experience in international law and the defence sector, Vincent has advised on numerous high-impact, tech-driven initiatives, including the NATO Allied Persistent Surveillance System (APSS) and other mission-critical capability programmes. He is deeply involved in shaping legal frameworks around innovation, advanced data systems, and secure communications within NATO. Vincent has also led legal work on complex international litigation and arbitration, bringing deep expertise in managing legal risks in technologically advanced operational environments. He holds a degree in Compliance from Louvain Business School, a Master's in International Criminal Justice and Armed Conflict Law from the University of Nottingham, and a Law Degree magna cum laude from Université Catholique de Louvain. Admitted to the Brussels Bar in 2003, he is fluent in French, English, and Dutch, and proficient in Russian.
