

European Technology Summit

Christina Demetriades

General Counsel EMEA & Global Legal Transformation and Strategy Lead
Accenture

Christina Demetriades is General Counsel, EMEA and Global Legal Transformation and Strategy Lead at Accenture. As General Counsel, Christina leads our Legal team supporting our EMEA businesses. EMEA is Accenture's second largest market and represents over 35% of Accenture's Revenue.

In addition, in her global role leading Global Legal Transformation and Strategy, Christina leads the reinvention of Accenture's own legal function from a people, process, technology and data perspective. Accenture Legal comprises approximately 3300 legal professionals in 48 Countries.

Previously, Christina led Sales & Delivery, Accenture's legal support for our client-facing business. Christina is a member of Accenture's Global Leadership Council, EMEA Management Committee and Ops Council.

Prior to joining Accenture in 2013, Christina spent 13 years as a partner at the law firm of Baker & McKenzie LLP (London), where she led their IT/Comm practice. Christina has worked in Australia and the UK and holds a Bachelor of Laws (LLB Hons) from Bond University, Australia, was a Chevening Scholar and holds an LLM from the University of London.

Christina lives in Northamptonshire, UK, with her husband and two teenage children.

www.dlapipertechsummit.eu