Caroline Gorski

CEO

Capital Enterprise

Caroline Gorski is a technology leader of more than 25 years experience, with a background in strategy consulting, market development and commercial decision-making at FTSE 100 board-level. From September 1, 2023, Caroline has taken up the position of CEO of Capital Enterprise - the UK's leading start-up support network - with the mission to make the UK the best place to start and scale a business.

She is a Co-Founder of Cerestrial LLP, a philanthropic partnership focussed on equitable, inclusive and sustainable growth, supporting individuals, communities and corporations with ideas and innovations that have the potential to bring positive social change.

In April 2020 she co-founded the Emergent Alliance (www.emergentalliance.org), a not-for-profit Global Data Collaboration initiative focussing on Economic Recovery analytics in response to COVID-19.

In September 2021 she launched the R² Factory, an industrial machine learning and AI spin-out born from the experiences gained as Group Director of R² Data Labs, the data innovation and artificial intelligence catalyst inside Rolls-Royce which she led for five years, following technology leadership positions at the Digital Catapult, and Telefonica UK. Caroline has an MA from Oxford University, and lives in rural Yorkshire with her two children and two very noisy small dogs.
