

Middle East Technology Summit

Lord Tim Clement-Jones

Chair
House of Lords

Lord Clement-Jones was made CBE for political services in 1988 and life peer in 1998. He is the Liberal Democrat House of Lords spokesperson for Science, Innovation and Technology and a member of the newly-appointed UK Engagement with Space Committee. Former Chair of the House of Lords Select Committee on Artificial Intelligence which reported in 2018 with "AI in the UK Ready Willing and Able?" and its follow-up report in 2020 "AI in the UK: No Room for Complacency".

In 2016, he Co-Founded and has since Co-chaired the All-Party Parliamentary Group on AI. He was a member of the Joint Committee on the Draft Online Safety Bill (2021-22) and was the initiator of and subsequent member of the Special Inquiry Select Committee into AI in Weapons (2022-23). He is a founding member of the OECD Parliamentary Group on AI and former consultant of the Council of Europe's Ad-hoc Committee on AI. He is a Consultant on AI Policy and Regulation to DLA Piper where previous positions held include London Managing Partner.

He is author of the book, 'Living with the Algorithm: Servant or Master?: AI Governance and Policy for the Future' (Unicorn, 2024); Chair of Authors' Licensing and Collecting Society (2025-); Chair of Trust Alliance Group (2016-) and former Chair of Council of Queen Mary University London (2016-25).

www.dlapipertechsummit.com/middleeast