

Middle East Technology Summit

Saba Al-Sultani

Partner
DLA Piper

Saba leads the firm's MENA Trade Marks practice, and specialises in trade mark and design matters across in the Middle East and North Africa region, managing worldwide IP portfolios and handling disputes for both regional and international clients (including many of the biggest and most well-known brands in the world). Her clients span numerous sectors including consumer goods and retail, life sciences, aviation, energy and natural resources, education and hospitality.

Saba has extensive experience in both contentious and non-contentious matters, such as acting for clients in opposition and cancellation actions, advising clients on infringement and enforcement matters, filing and prosecuting local, region-wide (MENA) and overseas trade mark applications, conducting clearance searches and devising trade mark filing strategies.

Saba also advises on copyright and domain name issues including through Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy (UDRP) actions and is bilingual in Arabic and English.

www.dlapipertechsummit.com/middleeast

© 2023 DLA Piper. DLA Piper is a global law firm operating through various separate and distinct legal entities. Further details of these entities can be found at www.dlapiper.com. All rights reserved. Attorney advertising.